In the beginning...

Prior to opening the company we know today as Rare Manufacturing, the two owners had successful careers as metal roofers. Together with the help of an investor and industry expert they took a chance and created a new and improved product they designed themselves, from their point of view as roofers. After installing their newly designed roofing panel for a few years and realizing it's success, they opened up a manufacturing company - Rare Manufacturing. The first Rare European Tile panel was produced back in 1990 and now Rare is a successful manufacturer of several quality metal roofing products. They're a company that takes pride in making products that serve their customers well and they stand behind their products by offering a lifetime warranty for their roof systems.
